Mr. Cleveland-Protection. We have expressed a desire to see Mr CLEVELAND's letter formally accepting the omination of the Democratic National envention for President of the United Certainly this desire is not based upon any doubt as to his position upon the questions before the country. The world knows that he stands for the people and against the depleters of the Treasury. But we were desirous of seeing his formal letter of acceptance because we expected it to contain some striking argument addressed to the whole people of the United States, or perhaps some new illustration of one or more of the problems involved in the presidential campaign, or a collocation of words that would carry conviction by their very simplicity to the minds of the masses of the voters. Mr. CLEVELAND is a man of the people. There ought not to any two opinions on that point in view of what we have witnessed during the current year. He sympathizes so thorough with the suffering public that he can formulate the people's grievances without asking anybody what these are. He is armed and equipped for the presidential fray, and ready at any time to use his rent Republican who may wish to have a bout with him. We say that though Mr. CLEVELAND'S osition needs no further defining we ould like above all things to see his formal letter of acceptance. Whilst we await its appearance let us recur to his admirable reference in his speech in Madison-Square Garden to the tariff question. He depicted in a few words the condition of the good Democratic farmers of Virginia who have become Thirdparty men, or men of any party other than the Democratic. We quote these few words:

sabre in cleaving the skull of any bellige-

"We see the farmer listening to a delusive story that fills his mind with visions of advance while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand A delusive story it is, indeed. Then be depicts the workingmen's condition. We repeated, in spite of its demonstrated faisity, that the existing protective tariff is a boon to them, and that under its benealeest operation their wages must increase, while as they listen es are enacted in the very abiding-place of ttest the tender mercy the workingmen receives from those made selfish and sordid by unjust governmental favoritism."

Finally, comes his terse statement that the question of protection is too plain call for arguments on constitutional points. Read his incisive remarks:

"We oppose earnestly and stubbornly the theory upon which our opponents seek to justily and uphold the existing tariff laws. We need not base our attack upon questions of constitu-tional permission or legislative power. We denounce this theory upon the highest possible grounds when we contend that under present conditions its operation is unjust, and that laws enacted in accordance with it are inequitable and unfair."

Here we stand. We need not raise the questions of constitutionality or legislative power. We denounce a tariff levied solely for protection "upon the highest possible grounds" when we contend that under present conditions its operation is unjust. Note the words "upon the highest possible grounds." Unjust laws, inequitable legislation, unfair discriminations in favor of a class or classes-these are enough Why should we raise constitutional ques tions? The voters will appreciate this appeal to their good sense. They need no profound dissertations upon constitutional law to enable them to understand what the word "protection" means in the mouths of the Republican party,

Keep It Before the People. The Baltimore American is another Republican paper, which in summing up the issues of the campaign, leaves out the force bill. The Republican policy of silence upon this iniquity affords the best of reasons why the Democracy should keep it before the people. That policy is one of the principal features in their programme for diverting votes from the Democratic party through the medium of the Third party. A phase of this policy is the instigation by the Republicans of the advice that the Third-partyites refrain from attending the Democratic meetings. They are afraid for the Democrats who have been honestly deluded into giving countenance to the Omaha move nent to hear the truth, which is that should Haratson and a Republican Congress be elected the force bill would surely be enacted into a law. While the Republican journals and leaders are ringing the changes upon the necessity of an "educa-tional campaign," they dread the educa-tion of the people of the South on an issue that involves their rights and liberties. Such is Republican consistency. Let the Democrats make the campaign truly an educational one by pressing the force bill to the front and exposing the record of the Republican party regarding it wherever their speakers have an opportunity to make addresses.

General Rosser Declines to Run for Congress.

We prints this morning a card from General Thomas L. Rossen, giving his rea-House of Representatives in the Seventh District. These reasons we might characterize as patriotic rather than personal the reasons of a patriot and not the reasons. of a place-seeker. We are gratified to read General Rossan's promise to fight in the Democratic ranks for the liberties, the equal rights, and the equal privileges of the people. He can and will render his State good service.

Mr. Brad Beverley. Mr. Bran. Bevenuer denies that he made the remarks attributed to him in our Henry and Amelia county letters of last week. Of course we know nothing as to the facts and must await information from our correspondents. All of our correspondents know that we always desire our reports to be absolutely true. Mr. Bevenier will bardly say that Jax Gould or "the banking power" owns any stock in the Dis-

the least that England, Germany, France, Austria, and the United States could by legislation, agreed upon by all of those countries, cause silver to rise to a parity with gold and keep up that parity. The United States alone could have done it in 1978. But the legislation of this country has been so roolishly anti-bimetallic that the United States Government no longer has power by its own action to make silver equal to gold in value (16 to 1). Our law givers have passed law after law calculated, if not intended, to reduce silver to the condition of a mere commodity; and modity. Under these conditions silver cannot now perform for the world the office which under more favorable circumstances it could easily have performed. In a word, the unwise friends of sliver have made it impossible for UNCLE SAM so to legislate as by his own unaided exertions to place silver where it was in the day of ALEXANDER HAMILTON and THOMAS JEFFERson. We turn now to the Dresden conference as the last hope of the bimetallists, A Mistake.

It was Mr. CHARLES MORAN, we believe, who in his Treatise on Money, made the ollowing assertion: "Another very important fact to notice in re gard to the different relative legal values given to gold and sliver is that it is always the cheap to gold and silver is that it is always to cheep metal that is scarce and the dear metal that is abundant; the very reverse of what always oc-curs with commodities, which are always cheap where abundant and dear where scarce; another proof that money does not follow the same

Surely it is the cheap metal that is abur dant and the dear metal that is scarce in this country. Gold is so scarce that not one man in a dozen ever sees a gold piece between Monday morning and Saturday night. And it is one of the objections to monometallism-nay, the most powerful of the objections to it—that there is not gold enough in the world to furnish even the basis of a circulating medium. We have advocated the free coinage of silver as an experiment-and only as an experiment that might bring to the world untold and unexpected benefits. We would prefer now that nothing more should be done in the way of financial legislation in the United States until we learn what the international bimetallic conference proposes

The Democratic Conference A joint meeting of the State Central Committee and the State Executive Committee of the Democratic party-the first of the campaign-was held in this city last night. Reports were received from every couraging outlook all along the line. The unanimous opinion of the committees was that a wise, prudent, and conciliatory policy towards the Democrats who might be inclined to give adherence to the Third party would result in keeping them in the ranks of the Democracy and insure a complete triumph in November.

Referring to the Third-partyites, the Florida Times. Union says:
"Whether they desire it or not they are acting with the Republican party in every southern State. These who are not with the Democratic party are against it and against the South." Unquestionably. Every Damocratic vote east for the Third party is a vote for the Republican party, and strikes at white supremacy in the South. The Republican papers are crediting John Sheaman with sulking during thepresent campaign. Nevertheless we would warn all Democrats to beware of building hopes on Mr. Harmson's losing anything by Re-publican sulkers. Democratic safety lies in fighting the battle as if every Repub-lican was enthusiastic for the nominees of their party. At Memphis Saturday General Piero ex-pressed confidence that the People's party would carry fifteen States. The southern States he claimed as certain for his ticket are North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, and Texas. It is a well-known fact that people never reason in their dreams.

GENERAL ROSSER WITHDRAWS. He Will Not Be a Candidate for the Nami-tion for Congress.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., August 13, 1892. To the Voters of the Secenta Congressions

District:

On the 15th of last February I publicly and through the press declared the purpose of offering myself as a candidate for Congress before the nominating convention of the Seventh Congressional District, which has now been called to meet in Front Royal on the 24th instant.

The good, and to me sufficient, reasons which prompted this course were then fully stated, and were then and are now housestly believed by me to be entirely true, but since writing that letter complications have arisen in national politics which have changed the conditions and the necessities of the State as well as the national coatest into which we have been precipitated.

ties of the State as well as the national contest into which we have been precipitated.

The different political parties have met in national convention and have placed their respective candidates in the field, and by appealing to the prejudices and passions of the people; by misrepresenting party issues, and by misretaing conditions and causes, they have engendered bitter sectional and race animosities, and so demoralized the people, in temper and in aptrit, as to imperil the most precions and vital interests of the people of Virginia and of the South, as well as to place in extreme jeopardy the life of the great republic under which we live. In addition to these evils, we are also threatened (under a misconception of party purposes) by some of our best citizens with internal dissentions, a want of unity, and even with the disintegration of our own great party. Under these circumstances, therefore, and in the interest of harmony, peace, and unity as among neighbors and friends, I hereby withdraw as a candidate from the congressional contest, so as to leave my friends free to act as the best interests of the Democratic party may demand.

As a private citizen I shall continue, and with renewed faith and zeal, to fight in the Democratic party may demand.

As a private citizen is shall continue, and with renewed faith and zeal, to fight in the Democratic party, which is berties, the equal rights, and the equal privileges of the people who, like myself, believe that these blessings can be secured only through the instrumentalities of the great Democratic party, which its surely the reopper's pastry. Most respectfully,

TROMAS L. ROSMES.

GEN. B. T. JOHNSON, EX-GOV. LEE, AND MR. MEREDITH GREETED.

Large and Enthusiastic Political Meet ing-Democratic Poetries Laid Down-The Ladies Lend Applause.

CULPEPER, Va., August 15 .- The Democrats of Culpeper county, turned out to-day in full force to greet General Bradley T. Johnson, ex-Governor Fitzhugh Lee, and Congressman Meredith. The meeting on the court-bouse green was large and enthusiastic, and composed of the most in-telligent people of the county, and they gave the speakers their undivided atten-tion. General Johnson gave it as his tion. General Johnson gave it as his opinion that the force bill was more the work of the highly-protected monopolists of the North than of the Republican politicians. The outcome of its enactment would be the demoralization and disorganization of the labor of the South. It would effectually check the present industrial progress of this section and utterly annihilate all competition with the northern capitalists. The Yankees, General Johnson said, were troubled with most extraordinary and abnormal consciousness. The business people of the South should seriously consider this fact and refuse to follow false gods.

Governor Lee was most heartily cheered and spoke at length of the hydra-headed inquities of the Republican party. The force bill and the war tariff especially came in for their share of condemnation.

THE THIRD.

Congressman Meredith began his speech by saying that he feit very much like a celebrated Esptist who upon one occasion was called upon as the third speaker and who began by saying as one of the speakers had gone for the world, the other for the flesh, he would pitch right muc the devin—the Republican party this time. He paid his respects in a masterly manner to Colonel Beverly, of Fauquier, and his nephew. Bob Turner, The speaking did great good for the Democratic cause, and it is hoped the campaign managers will send such speakers here, and also send them throughout the whole State.

Ladies Enthused.

LADIES ENTHUSED. The ladies are always found at the front when danger is imminent. To-day numbers turned out to cheer their Democratic friends to victory. One of the best business women told Mr. Maredith after the apeaking that if the men did not send him back to Congress the women would.

pendence of the Richmond Dispatch.] Luxenburge Courthouse, VA. August 14.—On August court-day there was a large crowd assembled at Lunenburg Courthouse to hear the Democratic speakers on the issues of the national campaign. State-Senator Walter Watson first addressed the people, giving an account of his stewardship as State senator. When he concluded Judge George C. Orgain, by request of the County Committee, introduced the Hon. Henry W. Flournoy, of Richmond. Mr. Flournoy spoke for two hours, reviewing in an able manner the tariff and force bill, both of which he handled in a masterly manner, and was frequently the recipient of applause. He pointed out to the Democrats who have joined the Third party the fact that as they stood no show to elect their candidates they would simply weaken the Democrats and might give the election to the Republicans, who would pass the force bill, the horrors of which he vividity pictured. The speech was able and exhaustive and made a fine impression. LUNENBURG COURTHOUSE, VA., August

THE DESCORT.

A severe drought has been prevailing in this county, and all crops are suffering very much for rain.

The Rev. Dr. Spencer, the pastur of the Methodist church at the Courthouse, is holding a "protracted meeting" at that church, preaching two sermons daily, morning and night. The crowds attending are large and much interest is felt, there having been a number of converts during the meeting, which is still being held.

The Walker Club, an agricultural organization of this county, met to-day at the residence of Mr. R. W. Manson, one of our most prosperous business-men and a member of the club. Speech-making upon agricultural topics was indulged in and a splendid dinner partaken of by the club. This club meets twice a year at the residence of some member of the club and enjoy a good dinner. These meetings are always enjoyable, and "Brunswick stew," barbecue, ice-cream, watermelons, &c., barbeene, ice-cream, watermelons, &c., &c., with "good cheer," generally is the order of the day.

THE CAMPAIGN IN WEST VIRGINIAForetble Address by Senator Charles J.
Faulkiper on the Issues of the Bay.
[Correspondence of the Richmend Dispatch.]
HINTON, W. VA., August 13.—The Democratic campaign was opened here to-day by Hon. Charles James Faulkner, of this State, who made an able and convincing speech. He dealt mainly with the McKinley bill, showing forcibly the monstrosities of the measure. The force bill was handled by the Senator in a masterly way, and his remarks, which lasted for more than two hours, were listened to with marked attention, making a fine impression on the large audience present. He was cheered to the echo, and the name of Cleveland brought down the house. The Democrats of West Virginia will carry their entire ticket at the November election.
